Thankfulness Voiced By Nevada City Folk

Editor, Nevada City Nugget:

Dear Editor—Out in the highways and byways of Nevada City I interviewed fifteen representative citizens on Thanksgiving. After winnowing the wheat, I find none of them mentioned the Pilgrims or Plymouth Rock. Some of them spoke of the Repeal, most of them mentioned Turkey, and all of them were Thankful. Here is what they say:

Phil Scadden—Thankful for Mr. Farley's wise administration of the Post Office department; for the fact that this is the banner year for the Nevada City postoffice; for the NRA which is pulling the country out of the hole; for the family reunion and the fat Turkey.

Ernie Schreiber—Thankful that there is no depression in Nevada county; for Franklin Roosevelt; for Repeal and for the advance the county has made out of Repression and Depression; for that Turkey and the groaning board.

Richard Dinkinson—Thankful for dawn of prosperity and F. D. R; for Repeal that gives prosperity a boost; for the Turkey goo to the last gobble.

H. W. Brown—Thankful for this clear cold weather; for new friends; for Repeal that he thinks helps the entire country; but not more thankful than five years ago; because then the Depression had not set in for him.

Brothers T. W. and M. S. Reynolds—Thankful for work and the kind folks who helped them get it; for the President who believes in action and who gets results.

Leo Hanson—Thankful for a community of good neighbors; for health happiness and gold; for the coincidence of a hearty appetite and a fat Turkey with trimmings.

C. E. Bosworth—Thankful he located his business in Nevada City; for the admnistration which has taken the road to prosperity; for the gobbler, who ceased gobbling and was gobbled.

J. F. Colley—Thankful for good health; for community neighborliness which makes this little city one big family; for the wide and handsome distribution and consumption of Turkey in this city; for his own nonumental Bird and abundant trimmings.

Chief Lu Kopp—Thankful to be alive; for health, friends; for the Recovery program; for the promise of the biggest Firemen's New Years Eve Ball in all history; for the interest every man jack and his lady is taking in this affair; for Red Men's hall and the department's intestinal fortitude to finish a good job; and—oh yes, a Turkey, and an oven to roast it in, and a capacity appetite appropriate to the occasion.

In conclusion, your reporter learned that a lot of Turkeys completely lost their heads over Thanksgiving.

Thankfully yours,
CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

EDITOR'S LAMENT!

Almost—we had brace of wild geese for Thanksgiving instead of our beloved turkey. Our son, also a fortunate newspaper man, came up from the Valley to spend Thanksgiving with the family. One of his friends promised him a brace of geese providing the shooting was good Tuesday, and he bagged a half dozen, first, for his own large tribe.

And here the sad story begins: The hunter found the shooting good. He had taken his minimum requirement of six. A grand flock of honkers wedged its way low down and with the wind. He aimed and fired at the tail end of one side of the goose triangle. Four of them headed for terra firma. But the wind, blowing strong from the north carried them a half mile and they fell right in the highway and there two auto loads of tourists hopped out of their cars and gathered up the birds, stepped on the gas and sped away at 60 miles an hour.

And so we are reduced to mere turkey.

Vengeance Is Mine, Saith The Lord

(Editorial)

On this Thanksgiving Day the voices of thinkers and leaders of California are raised deploring the insensate lynching of two murderers in San Jose. Among those who have raised their voices to protest against lawlessness as a cure for lawlessness are President Sproul of the University of California, President Wilbur of Stanford University, W. H. Crocker San Francisco banker, Archbishop Hanna, and former president of the United States, Herbert Hoover, together with civic, church, and social leaders of San Francisco Bay region.

This group appends its signatures to a statement which reads in part:

The very spirit of government has been violated and the state has been disgraced in the eyes of the world by a brutal outburst of primitive lust for vengeance; a horrible crime has been committed which sharply moves every citizen; that lynching is unjustifiable and subversive to all government.

This humiliation and shame is intensified by the laudation of the mob and its acts, more than this, such laudation, particularly when coming from the chief executive of the state undermines the very foundation upon which the state and all civilized society is built to respect and revere, in the minds of citizenry for law, order and justice.

The "laudation of the deed by Governor Rolph" is especially censured. That this governor who has pardoned, reprieved or commuted the sentences of so many red handed murderers, legally condemned to death, during his three years in office, a governor pre-eminent in fact, for his sickly sentimentality, should refuse the protection of the state, two murderers awaiting trial and by every act and word, condone and approve the mob that stripped, tortured, beat and kicked them and finally hung their naked bloody bodies to a tree, disgusts and nauseates all thinking and law abiding citizens of California.

The Nevada City Nugget heartily endorses every word of protest uttered by the leaders of California business, religion and education, who deplore mob action. It does not for one moment condone the awful crime for which the two confessed murderers atoned with their lives.

But a government by mobs is anarchy.

CHURCHES UNITED IN THANKSGIVING DAY DEVOTION

Methodists And Episcopalians Hold Union Service; Rev. Washburn Preaches Stirring Sermon

There was a union service of the Methodist and Episcopal churches Thanksgiving Day at the Methodist church. Last year the union service was held in the Episcpal church and Rev. H. H. Buckner of the Methodist church preached while Rev. Charles Washburn, Episcopal minister, delivered yesterdays sermon.

The choirs of the two churches united in singing beautiful anthems. A special feature was the solo sung by Mrs. Lyda Talbot.

Nevada and Placer county ministers of the Methodist church have formed a union and it was decided that ministers of each church should exchange pulpits.

This coming Sunday morning will see many changes when Rev. Bane of Colfax will preach in Nevada City, Rev. H. H. Buckner of Nevada City will conduct services in Auburn, Rev. A. L. Pratt of Grass Valley will speak in Colfax, and Rev. Gilbert of Auburn will preach in Grass Valley.

Rev. Bane's subject for next Sunday morning will be, "Can Jews Teach Christians the Best Elements of Character?"

BLAZE PERILS NOR. SAN JUAN

Fire on Wednesday afternoon destroyed two homes and for a time threatened to sweep North San Juan. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kessler, near the Methodist church was burned with all its contents and the family's clothing. A vacant house belonging to the Carpenter estate, adjoining it, was also destroyed.

In response to telephone calls for help, W. M. Gracey of the National Forest Service, dispatched 20 boys in a truck from the C. C. C. camp at Grass Valley, and fire fighting apparatus from the Nevada City headquarters. Traffic Officer Will Fowler cleared the route for them to North San Juan, so that they made excellent time. When they arrived, however, local volunteers had succeeded in controlling the flames, despite the strong north wind. The damage due to the destruction of the two houses is estimated at $3,000.

For a time North San Juan was in peril. The water supply there is totally inadequate, and the north wind a decided factor in the battle. Adjacent houses caught fire time and again, but the flames were beaten out with wet sacks and blankets.

COMPTROLLER RULES FORD BID IS FULLY LEGAL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—For the second time Comptroller General J. R. McCarl has ruled the Ford Motor Company products are eligible for government contracts.

This was ruled in an opinion given the department of agriculture as the result of an attempt by Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA administrator to keep the Northwest Motors Company of Bethesida, Md., a Ford dealer, from receiving a contract for Civilian Conservation Corps trucks.

Johnson contends the company might be in violation of the retail motor code because its bid probably is under the minimum set by the code.

McCarl held, however, that this question "is for judicial determination and not for consideration by the purchasing or contracting officer in the awarding of a contract."

The decision also developed that Johnson considers that Ford is complying with the automobile manufacturers' code "save in respects which are considered inmaterial."

The Chevrolet Motor Company was low bidder on trucks to be bought by the war department, offering a unit price of $629.19 as compared with $671.10, submitted by the Northwest Motor Company.

The bid of the Northwest Company, however, is on an eight-cylinder truck while that of the Chevrolet Company is for a six-cylinder unit.

The specifications require that the equipment be not less than six cylinder units.

HIGH SCHOOL HOLDS ASSEMBLY SONG FEST

By THE CUB REPORTER

Wednesday, a Thanksgiving assembly was held at the high school after a short business meeting, Ben Sweeney turned over the meeting to "those two masters of music," Professor Sweeney, and Coach Barron. Coach Barron accompanied the boys and girls on the piano, while Professor Sweeney led them in singing such rousing anthems as "Reuben and Rachel," "Christmas Has Come," "Aloha Oe" and in conclusion "Purple and Gold," the school song.

Mr. Kjorlie spoke briefly on certain school rules and codes being violated and ended with a note of good cheer for Thanksgiving.

SEAWELL WANTS SENATE POST

ROSEVILLE, Nov. 29.—Senator Jerrold L. Seawell of Placer county has given the legislative politicians something to buzz about with a definite announcement of his candidacy for president pro tempore of the next senate, the job held for years by Senator Arthur H. Breed of Alameda county.

"I am in the race to stay and already I have substantial support," declared Senator Seawell. "Between twelve and fifteen of the twenty holdover senators are friendly to my candidacy.

"It has been my understanding that Senator Breed will not seek the position of president pro tem again. He indicated that in a speech during the last legislative session. But I intend to stand for the position, even if Senator Breed does seek it again."

Seawell is a holdover senator, but Breed is one of those who must win in next year's elections if he intends to keep his upper house seat.

In that connection, a bay district rumor that Assemblyman William F. Knowland, son of the publisher of the Oakland Tribune, may aspire to the Alameda county senate position, further complicates the situation.

SAFEWAY STORE TO MOVE IN NEXT WEEK

The New Safeway Store which will occupy the former premises of the Citizen's Bank is expected to be ready to open for business by the middle of next week, according to J. R. Kile, who is in charge of Safeway's construction and remodeling, which is now going forward at a rapid pace.

One of the granite pillars in front of the building had been removed and a steel T-beam inserted in the facade to take up the strain. This leaves room for a huge plate glass window. In the rear a brick addition has been added to give more store room of about 20 x 25 feet.

Where the old vault was removed replastering is now being done. And shelving and store fixtures are being installed as fast as the work of remodeling is completed. The work has been going forward at a rapid pace.

SACRAMENTO VALLEY C. OF C. MEET DEC. 8

A complete analysis of the unemployment situation in each of the 19 counties of the Sacramento Valley District will be made when more than 100 business leaders get together at Hotel Senator at Sacramento on December 8th.

The plan of the Federal Gov't. now being put into effect, to take care of the unemployed on highways and the public works projects, will do much to relieve the unemployed situation according to A. E. Goddard, who is chairman of the Council.

If a sufficient number of projects have not been submitted to take care fo all of the unemployed, it is expected that additional funds will be made available if applications are made showing the need for additional funds. This matter will be fully discussed at the coming meeting.

Miss J. A. Ross, who has been visiting for some time with her friend, Mrs. Belle Douglas in Nevada City, left Monday for the far east. She will sail for Japan and China, and arrive at her home in South Africa in July. While here Miss Ross was extensively entertained.

HUSSEY MINE REVEALS GOOD ORE IN DRIFT

The east drift on the first level of the Hussey mine, operated by the West Mines Corporation, has been extended 120 feet for the month's work.

The characteristic of all vein formation in the Willow Valley district, is widening out substantially, with quartz streaks in the ore carrying high grade. These streaks of high grade ore materially add to the yield per ton. Two shifts are now employed at the mine. Ten men are employed.

The Queen Lil mill west of the Mines, is now running one shift, but will soon be on a two shift run.

CHAINS ADVISED ON TAHOE- UKIAH HIGHWAY

Tuesday morning the mercury was on the downward march, and dropped to 23 degrees making the coldest night of the season so far.

Thanksgiving provided charatteristic weather, clear and cold.

THE PEOPLE BEHIND ROOSEVELT

A return of the old community spirit—that splendid spirit of solidarity and self-sacrifice and consideration for others that built this country on a substantial basis, is backing the President's National Recovery Program. It is the irresitible force responsible for our early, sturdy growth. The people themselves have seen at close range that NRA is doing what the President promised it could not fail to do with their support. And of late they are expressing themselves in a typical American method of approval. Editorial comment in local newspapers shows conclusively that parades in scores of cities and towns, many out of all proportion to their size, were amazingly spontaneous demonstrations of a combined loyalty and satisfaction with the first stages of the relentless fight on depression.

The Sacramento Bee said:

"The obvious earnestness of the marchers and the remarkable enthusiasm of the mammoth crowd that came from dozens of counties to see the NRA parade offer unmistakable evidence of a determination to shake off the shackles of despondency. Sacramento believes with the President that there are short cuts back to prosperity which, if utilized intelligently, will bring prompt recovery."

"A stupendous spectacle" and "a large portion of the State's population was present" were references to an NRA parade in Wilmington, Del., said to have required 6 hours to pass a given point.

The Tampa Tribune commented:

"Tampa and her neighbors demonstrated support of NRA with the largest parade in the city's history. It was the largest numerically and the greatest in its manifesation of community sentiment. It had in it practical patriotism of the highest order, unity of purpose, and determination. Employers, employees, and consumers marched to show they are for and with the President and are resolved to do their utmost to bring success to NRA."

In parades in Kansas, Montana, Illinois, New Hampshire, Ohio, and other States, it was interesting to note the presence invariably of the community spirit. The people came from neighboring towns and rural sections, and many asked to participate.

In preparing for a monster parade in Macon, Ga., the Telegraph of that city announced that 32 other counties were invited to attend and enter floats, and "of that number exactly 32 accepted" and took part in what was described as "the most important and largest attended event ever held in Macon." As in many other sections of the country, stores remained closed "to relieve Macon's gesture toward her neighbors of all suspicion of selfishness and as being in keeping with the spirit of NRA."

That the people upon whom the President depends have a clear conception of the duty devolving upon them seems to be increasingly apparent.

NRA EXEMPTIONS FOR MERCHANTS IN SMALL TOWNS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—In addition to exempting from the operation of the master retail code, and also from the President's Reemployment Agreement, all stores not having more than five employes in towns of less than 2,500 population the President issued an additional Executive order which exempts farmers' cooperative organizations whose members receive "patronage dividends" from the sections covering fair practice sections of all codes. Such sections either limit or prohibit rebates or allowances of any kind to favored purchasers whether in the form of money, goods, or service or otherwise.

Exemption of small merchants in towns of less than 2,500 was contemplated in preliminary arrangements made weeks ago for creation of consumers' councils to hear complaints of unwarranted price increases in behalf of the Consumers' Advisory Board of NRA, with the sole exception of chain stores and branches of service organizations. Two weeks before the President's exemption order was issued it had been determined as a policy of the Recovery Administration because of hardships imposed in rural communities.

In explaining the exemption of small merchants in small towns, National Recovery Administrator H. S. Johnson said in part:

"The recovery program came at a time when low prices were crushing agriculture, when in cities and towns there was the greatest unemployment we have ever known, when debt and closed banks were slowing activity in cities and on farms, and destructive business practices, due to depression threatened many industries. The recovery program was designed to go to the heart of each trouble. To farmers it gave the adjustment and farm loan acts. To the unemployed it gave the recovery act, which permitted the wiping out of unfair trade practices. The banking and financial legislation attacked the problem of debt and frozen deposits for both farm and city. Of course, more wages mean increased costs and higher prices. We must remember that when we started many prices were at panic low, levels at which neither industry nor labor could live. Of this broad program NRA is but a part. It has nothing to do with farm prices or public works, oil administration, or the home and farm loan acts, etc. It is solely connected with industrial organization for economic planning and control with reemployment.

OCT. GAS TAX NETS $3,182,000

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 22.—The gasoline tax for October brought $3,182,000, into the State Treasury, R. E. Collins, chairman of the State Board of Equalization, announced today.

This figure was a loss of 3.2 per cent compared with the gasoline tax for October of 1932.

The net taxable gallonage distributed in California during October was 107,138,341.

The Board report showed both the taxable gallonage of the oil companies and the total gallonage actually sold by these companies.

"This total gallonage would include the net taxable gallonage," Collins said, "plus such non-taxable sales as exports, direct sales to the Federal government, resale of gasoline purchased from one company by another, upon which the tax was paid by the first company, and other similar items."

NEW COATS, OF SEMI-SWAGGER TYPE, ARE FINE FOR WINTER AND RETAIN NONCHALANCE OF FALL ENSEMBLES

An interesting ensemble is shown above—a brown and tan tweed coat, worn over an angora wool dress, with high collar and brown satin tie. Mannish and notched lapels feature the coat. The coat at right, of brown angora, is collarless, with wide lapels that can be buttoned across the chest. The dress is also of brown angora; the scarf in orange and brown.

BY HARRIET

ENSEMBLES, either suits or coat-and-dress-combinations, lead the winter fashion parade.

You can have a solid colored woolen frock with a flattering high neckline and a coat to wear over it. There's no reason why the coat can't be worn with other dresses as well.

The classical tweed coat always is with us and this season's tweeds do their part to keep the tweed standard up to par.

Warmly interlined and often fur trimmed, they are perfect winter coats, though they retain the nonchalance of fall ensembles.

Tweed coats tend to be modified swagger models. In other words, their sports collars, raglan sleeves, and notched lapels contrast their slim, form-fitting lines.

* * *

ALL winter ensemble coats emphasize a subdued elegance, both in fabric and design. Some are belted at the normal waistline. Others hug the figure and achieve charm without a belt.

You can have a tweed suit if you wish. But, if you have to wear it many places besides the office and on the street, better get a plain color in some heavy, novelty ribbed wool.

The blouses which you wear with your suit give you the greatest chance for individuality. Velveteen and jersey blouses are popular. And everyone should have at least one satin or luxurious crepe blouse for special luncheon and tea dates.

No winter wardrobe is complete without at least one ascot tie of velveteen. They are particularly smart with collarless coats.

* * *

A BROWN and tan tweed coat is worn over a beautiful angora wool dress with high collar and brown satin tie.

The coat has a mannish collar, notched lapels, and rather full sleeves, trimmed with buttoned cuffs.

The ensemble is warm and certainly smart enough to wear any place where informal dress is in order.

The suit has a full length coat and a straight skirt of brown angora, an orange angora blouse, trimmed with brown buttons; and a scarf of both orange and brown.

The coat is collarless, has two enormous patch pockets and a brown suede belt.

The wide lapels can be worn turned back to show the gay scarf or, on the windiest days, be buttoned across your chest.

When you're tired of wearing it with skirt and blouse, try it over a dress of mustard yellow or brilliant orange.

A little brown beret, brown kid gloves, and sleek oxfords are just the right accessories for the outfit.

PAUL BUNYAN'S LUMBERJACKS COMING SUNDAY

As a special stage attraction, in addition to the regular screen program, the Legion Theatre at Grass Valley, offers on Sunday and Monday Paul Bunyan and his Lumber Jacks in an unusual as well as highly entertaining performance.

The group is composed of REAL lumberjacks, each a talented entertainer, who took to the stage a few years ago when the camps and mills closed down and there was little for them to do. Since that time they have become a great hit and are conceded now to be one of the cleverest acts of the season.

Their performance consists mainly of string music, harmony, comedy, axe throwing exhibitions and tales of the heroic and unbelievable feats accredited to "Paul Bunyan", the hero of lumberjack legend.

The screen program consists of Evalyn Knapp and John Wayne, in "His Private Secretary," and also a comedy, cartoon and newsreel.

There will be no increase in the regular price for this special show. A matinee will be given Sunday at 2 P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Bolton and daughter, Alberta Bolton, and Mrs. Bolton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Oliver, spent Thanksgiving day in Gridley with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Katzer. Mrs. Katzer is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Oliver.

And still they can't tell you what the trouble is. I'll admit talk is cheap but time is worth money, so it's my time against yours. I can prove the above statement to the satisfaction of the most skeptical people on earth if they will but give me the chance. I CAN TELL YOU THE CAUSE OF YOUR TROUBLE without a bit of assistance from you—all that is necessary for you to say when you come in, "What is my trouble?"

There is nothing mysterious about the Chiropractor and his work. He understands that medicine and other external agents cannot bring relief in sickness or disease. He realizes and most good physicians admit that nature is in the last analysis the great healer of all bodily ills. He merely permits nature to properly express herself in the human body by restoring the movable segments of the spine to their proper alignment.

You sick people are entitled to FACTS and TRUTH these days! You're entitled to ACTION!—and you can get it! There's no excuse for experiment or long-delayed results from treatment in this enlightened age! Accurate, scientific FACTS about your ailment, trival or serious, now are available to you. It is just a matter of calling at our offices and being presented with this service.

WOLFF RECOUNTS HISTORIC LORE OF NEVADA CITY

There was a good attendance at the Woman's Civic Club meeting Monday evening to hear J. L. Wolff of Grass Valley speak on "Historical Appreciation of This Country."

He referred to people in this section as "sleeping in a golden bed," so to speak, with rich historical lore and a gold producing section. In his travels in the last few months, Mr. Wolff secured 100 letters written by a 49'er, Newton Miller, born in Lyon, New Hampshire, in 1827, who came to California in April 1849.

In French Corral he was superintendent of the Milton Mining Company. These letters gave a slant on the lives of 49'ers. Many books written on the 49'ers give them a rather hard character or as being blood thirsty liquor drinkers, while in reality the larger majority were kindly men of good homes, engaged in a courageous adventure.

Wolff touched briefly on the fact that California gold turned the Civil War into victory for the Union. It was E. E. Matteson who originated the monitor for hydraulic mining and the hurdy gurdy wheel that was driven by a stream of water forerunner of the Pelton water wheel, used the world over today. Mattison is buried in Pine Grove cemetery Nevada City, without a marker on his grave.

Mr. Wolff is attempting to interest the high schools of the twin cities in making a collection of old relics of 49'er days.

It is through the efforts of Mr. Wolff that the old Eureka stage presented to the N. S. G. W., by Frank Davies, is to be brought to Nevada City and preserved. Among other notable events this stage was robbed by highwaymen and a banker, named Cummings, on his way from Moore's Flat to Nevada City with gold, was shot dead.

Mr. Wolff also spoke of the young Irishman Patrick Brennan from Ireland, who killed himself, wife and three children in Grass Valley by poisoned wine, because of the failure of finding gold in a part of the North Star holdings, which turned out to be a bonanza after two or three rounds of shots. William Bourne, former president of the North Star, placed a cement coping about the grave. Miss Minnie Brand's grandparents and mother, the latter a little girl, remembered the Brennan family.

The speaker urged that many relics, letters and old keepsakes should be saved for a museum.

Travels on "Ball Bearings"

Resembling a giant reptile, this new electric railway train has no wheels, but travels on steel balls, through an adaptation of the ball-bearing principle. The invention of a young Russian named Yarmolshul, the new train has been tested with remarkable success and may, it is claimed, be brought into general use.

American Heroines

By LOUISE M. COMSTOCK

Ida Lewis

IF ENGLAND can point with pride to Grace Darling, the famous "lighthouse girl," who in 1848 rescued five from a sinking vessel off Longstone lighthouse and made possible the saving of two more, America can boast of Ida Lewis, who saved twenty-two lives between 1867 and 1904.

Ida was born in 1841 at Newport, R. I. When she was fifteen her father, Capt. Hosea Lewis, was appointed keeper at Lime Rock lighthouse, in Newport harbor, and moved there with his family. Shortly afterwards, the father having become a paralytic, the stalwart young daughter undertook to take upon herself some of his duties, and thus became an able oarswoman, strong and fearless, capable of handling a small boat on high seas as well as any man.

In the summer of 1858, when Ida was seventeen, a small pleasure craft crossing the harbor capsized, upsetting four helpless passengers, all men, into the water. From her lighthouse top Ida saw the situation and though the day was a stormy one and the waves beat furiously upon the shore, she launched her boat, sped across the water, and rescued all four.

After that life-saving became Ida's vocation. Once she went out to the aid of three men who had set out after a sheep that had been carried out to sea and had upset in reaching for it in the water. At two different times she rescued soldiers from nearby Fort Adams. In all she saved twenty-two lives.

Ida became the heroine of Newport. On one occasion the Life Saving Benevolent Association of New York present her with $150, on another the soldiers of Fort Adams gathered together $280 and presented it to her with due ceremony. The General Assembly of the state of Rhode Island passed a resolution honoring her, General Grant and other dignitaries at one time participated in a special ceremony of recognition, and she received letters and gifts from all over the world. In 1869 the citizens of Newport presented her with a specially constructed boat called the Rescue. In 1879 by a special act of congress, Ida Lewis was made keeper of the Lime Rock lighthouse.

She held her post for 32 years. When, in 1911, it became known that the heroic woman, then almost seventy, lay dying in the lighthouse which was her home, artillery practice at Fort Adams was suspended, that her last hours might be spent in peace.

SOUTH SEA TALE LEGION SCREEN. FRI-SAT. NIGHT

"Zane Grey's South Sea Adventures" which comes to the Legion Theatre screen Friday night for a two-day run, is packed with plenty of thrills and action, as well as many beautiful and interesting "shots" of native home-life and customs.

It is an actual talking film record of one of the famous author's South Sea fishing expeditions, taken in his qurater-million dollar yacht. The explanatory talk accompanying the picture is well presented and mingled with the right proportion of puns and "wisecracks" to make it very laugh-provoking.

One of the greatest thrills of the picture comes when Mr. Grey lands a giant, leaping and twisting 1040 pound black marlin, from which the bloodthirsty sharks eat several hundred pounds of flesh during the battle. However, this is only one of many big thrills.

The second picture on the double bill program is FILE NO. 113, taken from the great French detective story of the same name. In it are: Lew Cody, Mary Nolan, and an all star cast. The big program is completed with episode number 1 for the LAST FRONTIER, a newsreel and a cartoon. There will be a matinee on Saturday at 2 o'clock P. M..

P·G·and E— YOUR service company

ELECTRIC and GAS SERVICE come so easily that it is natural to take the ever present supply for granted.

It is there, right at your hand, the instant you want it.

Isn't it true that you rarely think of what stands behind the button or the valve?

Yet a great and intricate system of power houses and power lines, of gas mains and distributing pipes, representing more than $700,000,000 of investment, has been built just to put that easy, dependable service at your finger tips.

That is an enormous investment, but it is not any one man's money, nor the money of any score of men. More than 90,000 persons, 70,000 of them living in California, have put their savings into this business.

They are just the average run of folks, industrious, thrifty, many of them depending upon their dividends for their living.

These dividends are like pay checks. They go to pay the grocer, the baker, the candlestick maker; they help to keep things going in every community and in every line of business.

Also it takes a regular army of workers to make sure you have that service. P. G. and E. employs 10,600 men and women. They make their homes in every part of Northern and Central California.

Their wages amounting this year to more than 15 million dollars, flow into stores, factories, homes, theaters, quickening business and stimulating trade in more than 600 cities and towns.

Our service goes to 1,250,000 customers. It is always the best service that a faithful and conscientious organization can give.

We are in California . . . of California . . . for California.
